More than one year before the filing of the present application, the applicant's assignee had in commercial use a software product known as Acrobat® 4.05 Web Buy. This software made use of FDF files for tunneling by allowing requests and data to be sent from a web server in an FDF file to the WebBuy plug-in to the Acrobat® program. Web Buy returned requested data by using the WebLink plug-in to Acrobat. Acrobat would generally used by the operating system to open FDF files on any machine on which Acrobat was installed, and be used by web browsers to handle files of an FDF MIME type.
